CENTER NEWS

SPRING

"On this June day the buds in my garden are almost as enchanting as the open flowers. Things in bud bring, in the heat of a June noontide, the recollection of the loveliest days of the year—those days of May when all is suggested, nothing fulfilled." (Mrs. Frances King, from Garden Clippings.) It can be an agonizing wait until various Spring Plant Sales and local nurseries offer up the latest goodies. But the wait is worthwhile.

NEW FACULTY

We are pleased to announce that Rico Gonzalez will join the CUH faculty in June, to become assistant professor of landscape plant science. Rico is currently completing his Ph.D. this spring at The Ohio State University, where he is working on water stress studies on oak. We happily welcome soon-to-be Dr. Gonzalez to the U!

UNDERGRADUATE RECRUITING

Recruitment efforts continue for the urban forestry undergraduate program. The faculty have attended several career days, and the Center obtained exhibit space for the entire College of Forest Resources at February's Northwest Flower & Garden Show. If you would like more information about undergraduate opportunities, contact Dr. John Wott at CUH at 685-8033.

VISITING PROFESSOR

Dr. Kyung Lee, of the Seoul National University in Korea, has nearly completed his year sabbatical at CUH. He has been studying the physiological responses of plants to urban stresses.

NATIONAL PROGRAM

CUH is co-sponsoring an American Horticultural Society national symposium entitled "Children, Plants and Gardens: Educational Opportunities". It will be held August 12-14, in Washington, D.C. For information, call 1-(800)-777-7931.

SPRING PLANT SALE

The 1993 AF Spring Plant Sale will be held Saturday, April 17, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the University of Washington E-1 parking lot. (This is the large lot on Montlake Boulevard just north of Husky Stadium). This is an excellent sale with high quality plants and many unusual selections.

NEW LECTURE SERIES!

LUNCH TIME GARDEN TALKS

FREE, informal talks and walks on home gardening at the Center for Urban Horticulture, held Noon to 1 p.m.

LESS IS MORE

April 28

Learn to grow lots of delicious vegetables in little space with this sustainable approach to gardening. Wendy McClure of the Lettuce Link Project discusses a gardening method called "bio-intensive mini-farming".

WATER CONSERVING LANDSCAPES

May 26

Nancy Park, Curator of Bellevue Botanic Garden, discusses tips for saving water in new and established landscapes, using Bellevue's new Water Conservation Demonstration Garden as an example. Save water, time and money!

SPRING FESTIVAL

SUNDAY, MAY 2
11 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Graham Visitors Center, Washington Park Arboretum
FREE

Bring the entire family and enjoy a variety of fun activities as we usher in another beautiful spring at the Arboretum. There will be fun for kids of all ages, including making pressed flower cards perfect for Mother's Day! Also, join in a special Sunday at One (1 p.m.) field lecture highlighting the beautiful spring flowering plants in our collections.

Come join us for our THIRD ANNUAL SPRING FESTIVAL!
PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES

Parking at CUH is in a University parking lot; students are responsible for their own $1.50 parking fees. Purchase stickers (quarters only) in the red ticket spitters in the parking lots.

PLANTS AND GARDENS OF THE WORLD

U.S. COAST TO COAST

April 19, 7 to 9 p.m., CUH $5, payable at the door

Part 1: John Fitzpatrick, Director of the Rhododendron Species Foundation, discusses and shows the gardens of one of early America’s most influential and famous gardeners - Thomas Jefferson, including Monticello and Poplar Forest.

Part 2: David Streatfield, UW Professor of Landscape Architecture, examines the Mediterranean influence on gardens of the west coast. See designs by Thomas Church and sites like Fitioli.

PLANT ENTHUSIAST

Regional experts present in-depth lectures on specific plant groups.
7:30 to 8:30 p.m., CUH. Fee is $2, payable at the door.

BROAD-LEAFED EVERGREEN TREES

April 14

George Pinyuh discusses the potential that exists for greater use of broad-leaved evergreen trees in our area. Interesting textures, bountiful blooms, and unique fruits are just a few of the attributes these trees can provide.

ROSES FOR ANOTHER REASON

May 2

Differing shapes, shimmering colors! Join Kate Allen and Brian Chambers and discover roses with spectacular fruits. Review cultural and maintenance practices that encourage hip production.

DAYLILIES

June 9

Daylilies are graceful, undemanding perennials for the border, yard or container. Don Smetena of A and D Perennial Nursery shares slides and specimens of newly available daylilies.

MASTER GARDENERS

Practical gardening information for all, presented by WSU Master Gardeners. 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., CUH, $2. payable at the door.

ROSES FOR THE NORTHWEST

April 15

Debunk the myth of finicky, pampered roses. Learn about the selection, care and culture of our nation’s favorite flower from local rosarians.

INSTALLING DRIP IRRIGATION

May 21

Don’t let all those plastic tubes and clamp-on connectors intimidate you! Learn the basics of installing your own drip irrigation system at home.

A PLANT OUT OF PLACE

June 17

Join this walking lecture around the CUH grounds and learn to identify common lawn and garden weeds. Methods of control will be discussed.

URBAN HORTICULTURE COURSES

Pre-registration is required for all CUH Courses and Tours.

Each course is offered only once, but may be conducted over several class periods on different days. Note DATES & TIMES listings for each course. Achievement program courses are asterisked, with explanations at the end of course listings.

BASICS OF LAWN CARE*

Drought. Storms. Your yard has taken a lot of abuse the past year. Discover how, when, what and why to plant, mow, dethatch, fertilize, irrigate and more. Whether starting from scratch or saving what you've got, this is for you!

Date & Time: April 1, 7 to 9:30 p.m.
Instructor: Ciscoe Morris
Fee: $15

PROPAGATION BY SEED

Learning to propagate by seed is easy and fun-and a cheap way to produce lots of plants. Learn the basics of seed propagation- plus a few tricks mother nature never intended for you to know!

Dates & Times: April 3, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (with 1 & 1/2 hour lunch break)
Instructor: Scott Vergara
Fee: $27

EASY GARDEN PONDS

New materials are making home pond construction easier and more affordable. Learn how to select and install a garden pond liner, what plants to include, and the techniques of pond habitat establishment and stabilization.

Date & Time: April 17, 9 a.m. to Noon
Instructor: Chris Moore
Fee: $15

SLOPE, SLIDING AWAY

A common challenge faced by many gardeners is a difficult slope in the yard. Come learn about design options, plant choices, and techniques for turning that steep slope into an attractive landscape feature. Course includes field trip.

Dates & Times: Two-part course; April 20, 7 to 9 p.m.; April 24, 9 a.m. to Noon
Instructor: Keith Geller
Fee: $22

FUNDAMENTALS OF PLANTS RECOGNITION

We strongly recommend that anyone planning to take spring or summer plant identification courses enroll in this class.

Learn the descriptive terminology of plant parts and how to communicate correctly using plant names. Study the biological basis for plant classification in nature and cultivated plants.

Dates & Times: Two-part course; April 26 & 28, 7 to 9 p.m. each night
Instructor: Dr. Clement Hamilton
Fee: $7

SELECTION AND CARE OF GROUND COVERS*

Ground covers provide alternatives to lawns and are often used on difficult to manage sites. Learn to select, establish and manage these useful plants in the landscape during this lecture/field trip.

Dates & Times: Two-part course; May 26, 6:30 to 9 p.m.; May 29, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Instructor: Clay Antieau
Fee: $27
BEGINNING BEEKEEPING

Beekeeping is a time-honored activity of great value to gardeners. Study the basics of beekeeping, including hands-on work with established hives, in this exciting, useful course. Option to take exam to become a Certified Beekeeper will be made available free of charge.

Dates & Times: Two-part course; June 2, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.; June 5, 9 to 11 a.m.
Instructor: Bob Zahler
Fee: $22

PLANNING & PLANTING A PERENNIAL BORDER*

Bodil Leamy has created the wonderful perennial plantings at the University of British Columbia's Botanical Garden. She will share her knowledge of planning and planting a perennial border, with emphasis on plant selections for color from June till frost.

Date & Time: June 5, 9 a.m. to Noon
Instructor: Bodil Leamy
Fee: $20

BROAD-LEAFED EVERGREEN ID

The extensive palette of broad-leaved evergreens available in the Northwest helps us maintain the lush green environment associated with our state. Learn to identify over 40 landscape useful broad-leaved plants in this lecture/field trip course.

Dates & Times: Three-part course; June 7, 9 & 14, 6:30-8:30 p.m. each night
Instructor: Scott Conner
Fee: $27

TREE ID, Part 1

Learn to identify over 40 trees in this introductory course. Lecture and field trips will provide the opportunity to begin to study the landscape and ornamental characteristics of these trees. Additional trees will be covered in Part 2, to be held summer quarter.

Dates & Times: Two-part course; June 15, 7 to 9 p.m.; June 19, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (with 1 & 1/2 hour lunch break)
Instructor: Scott Vergara

LIBRARY NEWS

The Elisabeth C. Miller Library has received two very generous gifts. Elisabeth C. Miller made a $10,000 gift for library operations to provide cataloging and administrative support for the 1993 CBHL Conference. This generous gift helped the library maintain normal operating hours in fiscal year 1992-93. A gift of several hundred gardening books was donated to the library by Maureen E. Connors. The books, ranging from old and valuable to new and beautiful, will be added to both the reference and lending collections.

The librarians will be hosting the annual meeting of the Council of Botanical Libraries in May. Approximately 100 horticultural librarians from the U.S. and abroad will be in Seattle to tour the library, the Center, the Arboretum, and some area gardens.
UNIVERSITY BROWN BAG GARDEN TALKS
General interest gardening talks for University faculty, staff, students.
